That would come as no surprise to anyone living in Flint but what happened there is only the tip of the iceberg, so to speak. Both religions are monotheistic and both hold that their religion is the one What's So Great About America and universal religion. America is not as overwhelmingly preponderant as most people thought it would be, but it remains an exceptionally powerful country whose influence, realistically exercised, can do a great deal to make the world better and safer both for Americans and for the rest of us. Some critics, especially from Europe, sneer that these aspirations are short-sighted. France is an independent country, more or less, and will become totally independent once again when the European Union is dissolved the sooner, the better. They say that many Americans see them as a bunch of uncivilized towel heads, and this is probably true.
